Dr. Lori's antiques appraisals comedy tour stops in Oaks, PA

11th straight year for tour, Dr. Lori to appear October 16 & 17 at Suburban Fall Home Show

Bring your antiques for a free appraisal to part antiques appraiser, part standup comedian Dr. Lori. Have you ever dreamed about paying for your next home remodeling or garden landscaping project with your spouse's antique junk? Do you know someone who buys antiques and you think that stuff is just plain ugly cluttering up the house?

Drag your troubled friends with their stuff to awarding-winning TV personality and TV host, Ph.D. antiques appraiser, and nationally syndicated columnist Dr. Lori for a much needed antiques intervention. Enjoy the home show and laugh with your friend or spouse about their "collection of clutter". Yes, Dr. Lori will review your antiques or photos of them even if they aren't funny!

Attend Dr. Lori's antiques appraisals comedy sessions at the Suburban Fall Home Show on Saturday October 16 and Sunday October 17 located at the Greater Philadelphia Expo Center in Oaks, PA. Free antiques appraisals will be available with admission to the Home Show as part of Dr. Lori's daily sessions. Arrive early since appraisals are limited.

As seen on Comedy Central's "The Daily Show with Jon Stewart", "The Tonight Show", and the Fine Living Network, nationally known and funny art and antiques appraiser, syndicated columnist and award winning TV personality and talk show host, Dr. Lori will pull no punches evaluating your friends' or spouse's flea market addictions and sentimental family objects as she makes you all laugh about your junk.

Dr. Lori says, "You'll laugh out loud while learning about your antiques, your friends and even your spouse at my event! I'm not an antique dealer, reseller, or affiliated with any auction house and my evaluations are straightforward and honest. I will not hesitate to tell your friend or spouse that their compulsion for buying and saving items is a sickness, just adding to the clutter. Everyone is invited to attend, with or without an antique, and I'll even tell you how appraisers on the Antiques Roadshow fail to meet professional museum standards."

About Dr. Lori
